BioSpectrum
the business of Bi 24 years of leveraging the business of Bio
www.biospectrumindia.co

Ekta S. Chaudhary steps in as Chairperson of Venus Foundation to spearhead CSR initiatives

07 May 2025 | News

She is channeling her global exposure and scientific perspective into purpose-driven work

Venus Remedies Limited, a leading global pharmaceutical company, has appointed Ekta S. Chaudhary as the Chairperson of Venus Foundation, the dedicated social impact arm of the organization.

In this leadership role, Ekta will drive the company's corporate social responsibility (CSR) agenda, focusing on healthcare access, educational advancement, and inclusive community development. Her appointment marks a significant step in strengthening the Foundation's impact-driven initiatives aligned with Venus Remedies' core values of equity, empowerment and environmental stewardship.

The appointment reflects Venus Remedies' commitment to evolving its CSR framework under future-ready leadership that blends scientific understanding with a passion for community welfare.

A microbiologist by qualification, Ekta holds a degree from the University of Nottingham, a leading Russell Group institution in the UK. A passionate advocate for environmental action, she played a key role in launching Earthfest—London's first large-scale sustainability festival—bringing together change makers, innovators, and thought leaders to raise awareness about climate action and responsible living. With early experience in the biotech and AI space in London, she is now channeling her global exposure and scientific perspective into purpose-driven work, marking the beginning of her journey in corporate social responsibility and community impact.