Clinivantage will use the newly raised funds to scale and expand across the globe, for product development, deployment of resources for implementation, and for travel and administration.

Mumbai-based healthtech startup Clinivantage Healthcare Technologies has raised $1 million from US-based investor group Metaform Ventures LLC.

Clinivantage will use the newly raised funds to scale and expand across the globe, for product development, deployment of resources for implementation, and for travel and administration.

Founded in 2016, Clinivantage is an integrated digital platform that connects doctors, hospitals, caregivers, and service providers with the patient in real time and puts patients in control of their health, bringing speed, simplicity, transparency, and efficiency to patient care.

The startup offers a flagship PaaS (Platform-as-a-Service) across IoA (Internet of Applications) products and the DoTTM (Doctor of Things)-connected IoT medical devices.

The company claims to have registered over 5,000 outpatient practices, more than 1,000 secondary and tertiary hospitals, over 3,000 allied services providers, and more than 6.5 million consumers on its HealthHuddle.in platform.
