Founder Speaks-

"With approximately 3 lakh cardiac procedures conducted each year in India, there is significant whitespace for rehabilitative care treatments to be made available to these patients is essential. Post-release from the hospital, continuous care must be given to them and this will entail a longer duration as compared to the procedural stay. Since these patients shell out upwards of Rs 20,000/- a day (approx. costs per day) in the hospital, such rehabilitative treatment will necessarily be provided at home or a center that has hospital-like amenities. Given the lack of widespread cost inflation and rising health care measures, Sukino perfectly fits the puzzle board and provides more than ordinary recuperative care."
