Johari Digital Healthcare opens CoE at IIT Jodhpur Technology Park

06 January 2022 | News

The collaboration is a step towards making India self-reliant in the manufacturing of medical devices

Jodhpur-based medtech firm Johari Digital Healthcare has launched the Johari Centre of Excellence (CoE) at the Indian Institute of Technology (IIT) Jodhpur Technology Park.

With the healthcare market embracing contemporary technologies of Artificial intelligence and data-based remote healthcare, this Centre of Excellence at IIT Jodhpur will establish vital synergy between academia and industry for advanced healthcare technologies.

It will be a unique opportunity to develop accessible, affordable, and quality healthcare devices at a higher pace and scale to meet the global demand.

Prof. Santanu Chaudhury, Director, IIT Jodhpur, said, “This Centre of Excellence will lead to the development of products which have originated from India, the entire IP as well as the manufacturing capability will also be with India. For a new IIT like IIT Jodhpur, this alliance with a global player like Johari in Jodhpur has huge value. This will nucleate a medtech industrial ecosystem in the country.”
