India, Israel to enhance homeopathy research

17 January 2018 | News

The MoU envisages cooperation in the field of research in homoeopathic medicine.

India and Israel has signed a memorandum of understanding (MoU) to enhance cooperation and boost research in homoeopathy, a system of alternative medicine.

The pact has been signed between the Central Council for Research in Homoeopathy, Ministry of AYUSH, and Centre for Integrative Complementary Medicine, Shaare Zedek Medical Centre, Jerusalem.

The MoU envisages cooperation in the field of research in homoeopathic medicine. It includes an establishment of a joint working group.

The MoU is a part of the nine agreements signed between the two countries after talks between Prime Minister Narendra Modi and his Israeli counterpart Benjamin Netanyahu.

Israel is planning to invest $68.6 million to boost cooperation with India in a number of areas over a period of four years.
