The Gurugram based company offers a wide range of pathology tests from their network labs.

India's largest health test at home service provider, Healthians recently launched its services in Jaipur. Healthians has served over 5,00,000 families in Delhi NCR in last 2 years. The company is now spreading its reach to Tier 2 cities, starting its journey from Lucknow, Kanpur and now Jaipur.

The Gurugram based company offers a wide range of pathology tests from their network labs. They have the highest number of qualified sample collection technicians who specialise in home sample collections.

Working on a business to customer model, the company claims to have cut all middleman expenses and high franchise cost. This cost advantage is readily passed on to customers. The startup aims to multiply their workforce exponentially in Tier 2 cities in coming months, creating employment opportunities for healthcare technicians and sample collectors.

Currently based out of Delhi-NCR, the company has an extensive growth plan to expand to the other major cities and create a marked presence across the country by end of the year. The company aims to add over 200 labs and over 3,000 phlebotomists across 30 cities by the end of 2019.
