

Novartis India MD to step down

07 December 2018 | News

The company board is now identifying a suitable successor for the role

3d

Drug firm Novartis India recently announced that its Vice Chairman and Managing Director Milan Paleja has decided to step down from company, with effect from May 31, 2019.

According to the company statement, "Paleja has informed the company's board of his decision to resign as the vice chairman and managing director effective May 31, 2019 for embracing challenges outside of Novartis."

The company board is now identifying a suitable successor for the role.