

One Health Initiative to tackle urgent health threats

11 February 2019 | News

It will bring together thought leaders from India and around the globe.

The Department of Biotechnology (DBT) in partnership with Departments of Agriculture Research and Education (DARE) and Animal Husbandry, Dairying & Fisheries (DAHDF), Ministry of Agriculture & Farmers' Welfare, Government of India, Departments of Health Research (DHR) and Health & Family Welfare (DHFV), Ministry of Health & Family Welfare, Government of India in collaboration with The Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation, Institute of Animal Health and Veterinary Biologicals (IAHVB), Penn State University, USA is organizing the "One Health India Conference, 2019", which will be held at Scope Convention Center, SCOPE Complex, Lodhi Road, New Delhi on February 18-19, 2019.

This premiere event will launch India's new One Health Initiative – an inter-sectoral approach to tackling some of the world's most urgent health threats including Brucellosis, Tuberculosis, Anthrax, Antimicrobial Resistance.

It will bring together thought leaders from India and around the globe, and provide a platform for researchers, public and private stakeholders and policymakers to integrate knowledge and identify needs and opportunities to better coordinate activities to address major human, animal and environmental health challenges.