Lyfboat, a medical travel organization headquartered in New Delhi, has received accreditation from National Accreditation Board for Hospitals & Healthcare Providers (NABH).

The start-up is a medical platform that believes in the motto 'Patient first' and delivers reliable and quality services to all the patients travelling through their system.

Lyfboat was started under the leadership of Dr. Surbhi Suden who has almost a decade's experience in facilitating treatment in India for international patients.

She recognized the need for a reliable system in the industry to smoothen the process for foreigners traveling for their treatment and provide access to the best hospitals and surgeons in India. And this is the ideology on which the company works.

Dr. Surbhi Suden stated: "Lyfboat is one of the leaders in medical travel facilitation. We continuously strive hard to provide the best care to our patients. The NABH accreditation further strengthens our commitment to fulfil the needs of the community and provide quality patient care. We receive patients from various parts of the world with different sets of challenges. Our goal is to ensure quality healthcare is available to everyone, because everyone deserves to be healthy. We are connected to top hospitals in India and other nations and have an empanelment of renowned experts in different areas of medical sciences. This accreditation motivates us to be more progressive as we have a long way ahead."

The company was established in 2015 by Dr. Surbhi Suden, Anuj Gupta and Mitika Gupta with an objective to provide unparalleled services in healthcare through verified and accredited hospitals.

The services offered by Lyfboat include, but are not limited to, obtaining genuine quotes and referrals from the top hospitals in India and abroad, provide a customized comparative analysis based on patient's specific requirements, visa assistance, accommodation arrangements, airport pick-up and drop and many others.
