10 April 2020 | Views

Prashant Nagre, CEO, Fermenta Biotech shares his views on the ongoing COVID-19 situation

"We firmly stand by the steps taken by the health authorities as well as state and central government for controlling the spread of COVID-19. We also suggest including the below mentioned actions:

Setting aside a substantial fund for the purpose of tackling COVID-19 cases

Mass testing, in order to immediately detect positive cases

Empowering private hospitals to treat patients, thereby reducing the burden on government funded institutions

Forming a coalition between hospitals, research institutions, diagnostics industry and drug manufacturers for a comprehensive approach against COVID-19

Creating a stimulus package for India Inc to overcome any economic slump."
