"Healthcare systems are being pressure tested"- Rekha Menon

05 May 2020 | Views

Rekha Menon, Chairman & Senior Managing Director, Accenture in India shares her views on the current situation of COVID-19

“Healthcare systems, in India and across the world, are being pressure tested. At such a time, the critical role of technology in bolstering the system has never been more apparent. Technology can be used for a range of purposes such as manufacturing smart low-cost devices, remote consultation platforms, monitoring health wearables, democratizing diagnostics, enabling policy development and engineer ecosystems to calibrate collective efforts of governments.”
