Satish Reddy, President, Indian Pharmaceutical Alliance talks about the initiatives of the pharma sector during the pandemic

"The COVID -19 pandemic has thrown unprecedented challenges at us. However, I believe that it has also given the pharmaceutical industry, an opportunity to rise to the occasion and to ensure the supply of quality medicines uninterruptedly to people across the world. The entire supply chain of the pharmaceutical industry has been continuously working to provide medicines during the lockdown period and beyond. Notably, in these difficult times, India has supplied millions of doses of HCQ to almost 55 countries, which shows our industry and its people's commitment.

Indian Pharmaceutical Alliance has launched a digital campaign "Mission Medicine- Delivering Life". The campaign brings to light the human stories of the contributions made by people engaged in the pharma sector amidst the pandemic and subsequent lockdown. Through this campaign, we would like to recognize the contribution of all those involved in the supply of medicines."
