These partnerships are a major step for the company toÂ provide a complete suite of wellness solutions to itsÂ 450+ clients and 40,000+ employees

Bengaluru-headquartered IndiQube has partnered with Care.fit, MediBuddy, MFine, and PinkBlue.in. The partnerships are a major step for the company to provide a complete suite of wellness solutions to its 450+ clients and 40,000+ employees based out of its communes.

“We at IndiQube have always been focused on providing value to our community through partnerships. We have collaborated with various partners in our endeavour to provide a complete suite of wellness solutions to our members,” said Meghna Agarwal, Co-founder, IndiQube.

“Care.fit has been at the forefront in India’s COVID-19 battle and this partnership with IndiQube would help us provide healthcare solutions to start-ups and enterprises seamlessly. We will continue to offer assistance wherever possible and remain committed to the health and well-being of the people in these testing times,” said, Madan Somasundaram, Head, Care.fit.

Satish Kannan, Co-founder & CEO, MediBuddy says, “It has been our constant endeavour to make high-quality healthcare more accessible for individuals. We are delighted to have partnered with IndiQube who share the same commitment to ensuring safety."

"MFine is working with IndiQube to provide continued care to the employees and their families. MFine Covid Homecare Plan allows those with mild symptoms to fully recover from the comfort of their own homes while being monitored by a team of physicians, dietitians and pulmonologists,” said Arjun Choudhary, Founding Member and Chief Business Officer, MFine.

Varun Singh, Director and Co-founder of PinkBlue.in mentioned, “During the second wave, we have been operating continuously to ensure that the Covid essentials are supplied on time."
