Founder Speaks-

"COVID-19 taught the world how healthcare delivery ought to be. People will be empowered to evaluate and manage their health from the app on their phone and Doctors are able to take care of 5x more people than today. Point of care will move from big hospitals to smaller , quick set-up care centres, kiosks and even homes with mobile devices. Health will be in the reach of everyone just like any 'essential' services needs to be."

- Prasad Kompalli, CEO & Co-founder, MFine, Bengaluru
