

Biocon enters Dow Jones Sustainability Emerging Markets Index

01 December 2021 | News

Biocon's ESG practices underscore its commitment to the larger goal of sustainable development

Dow Jones Sustainability Index (DJSI) has selected Biocon in the Emerging Markets (EM) category for its progressive Environmental, Social and Governance (ESG) practices, which underscore its commitment to the larger goal of sustainable development.

Biocon made a formal submission for Corporate Sustainability Assessment for its listing on the DJSI for the first time this year and made it to the DJSI EM Index with a Total Sustainability Score of 45 as against an industry average of 18, achieving a 93rd percentile position.

It is among the Top 15 companies from India and one of the 12 companies from the pharmaceuticals, biotechnology and life sciences sectors to be featured in the index for 2021. A total of 360 Indian companies were invited to participate in DJSI in 2021.

Kiran Mazumdar-Shaw, Executive Chairperson, Biocon and Biocon Biologics, said, "Our business purpose is focused on delivering health equity by providing affordable access to life saving and essential medicines to patients across the world. Our entry in the DJSI Emerging Markets Index is a testimony to our responsible and sustainable business practices and our philosophy of putting equity and equality at the centre of everything we do. The DJSI Index provides an important yardstick for Biocon and Biocon Biologics to measure sustainability performance and continuously improve reporting on ESG to address the growing interest of our global stakeholders."
