Glamyo Health collaborates with DocKnee for orthopaedic surgeries

16 December 2021 | News

The collaboration will end-to-end seamless patient care, at affordable prices

Glamyo Health, an asset Light healthcare startup operating in the field of elective surgeries, has announced collaboration with DocKnee, a new age healthcare provider, specialising in orthopaedic surgeries, giving end-to-end seamless patient care, at affordable prices.

Achieving a slew of specialisations in laparoscopy, proctology, urology, and cosmetic surgeries, Glamyo Health is now stepping into the field of orthopaedic surgeries. With the availability of an integrated Synergy between the two healthcare providers, the brands are determined to transform the health care scenario in India from a traditional system that is overburdened with a backlog of surgeries, to a system that is patient-centric, convenient, fast, efficient, and affordable.

In addition to providing top-notch health care services, Glamyo Health will work closely with the experienced medical team of DocKnee, to deliver a hassle-free experience to patients using the latest and most advanced technology.
