Technology will be leveraged in cardiac care to reach out to patients even in the remotest regions of the country

Leading digital healthcare services provider, RaphaCure has entered into a strategic partnership with Madhavbaug (Vaidya Sane Ayurved Laboratories). The tie-up is a game-changing event for the cardiac care space wherein technology will be leveraged to reach out to patients even in the remotest regions of the country.

RaphaCure and Madhavbaug will not only play to each other's core strengths but will also tap their combined network for providing better patient care. Moreover, the partnership opens up new pathways for people to access ancient Ayurvedic Care which is India's pride and heritage.

RaphaCure is powered by Cognota Healthcare, which is a leading healthtech company with multiple cutting-edge digital solutions. Together with RaphaCure, Cognota's teleconsultation platform and Remote Patient Monitoring (RPM) solution is bringing in a paradigm shift in the Indian healthcare landscape. With this partnership with Madhavbaug, the duo will now bring the Indian system of medicine to patients' doorsteps.
