Telemedicine will greatly enhance accessibility for patients: PwC India

01 February 2022 | Views

ï»¿Dr Rana Mehta, Partner and Leader Healthcare, PwC India

“The pandemic has caused a silent global mental health epidemic. The use of telemedicine to diagnose and treat such patients has proved to be highly effective given the unobtrusive nature of the interaction which also ensures patient privacy. Given the shortage of mental health professionals, especially in rural areas, telemedicine will greatly enhance accessibility for patients requiring psychiatric help.”
