

The upcoming launch of an open platform for the National Digital Health Ecosystem is exciting news for us: StanPlus

01 February 2022 | Views

Prabhdeep Singh, Founder and CEO, StanPlus

"The upcoming launch of an open platform for the National Digital Health Ecosystem is exciting news for us. It will include digital registries of health providers and facilities, a unique health identity, and universal access to health facilities, all of which will aid us in saving lives by allowing us access to contextual health information in quick time, enabling faster and better medical response in emergencies."