Medvarsity with Clove Dental to launch Fellowship in Endodontics

01 March 2022 | News

Allowing to learn through the clinical application of knowledge rather than rote learning

Hyderabad-based Medvarsity and Clove Dental have partnered to launch a Fellowship course in Endodontics. This six months fellowship programme includes a three-month contact programme with New Delhi-based Clove Dental across all major Indian cities.

Clove Dental will provide Medvarsity students with the right infrastructure across the country as well as highly experienced and trained faculty in this discipline to provide the right kind of training to young dentists.

The programme allows BDS graduates to learn through the clinical application of knowledge rather than rote learning, allowing students to understand and recall concepts better in a clinical setting. The programme further provides a framework for optimal diagnosis, treatment planning, and management of all endodontic lesions.
