CureSkin raises $5 M in Series A led by JSW Ventures

07 March 2022 | News

The company plans to deploy the funds to grow its overall customer base, expand into adjacent categories and make further investments in technology

CureSkin, artificial intelligence-driven beauty and personal care brand, has raised $5 million in a Series A round led by JSW Ventures with participation from Sharrp Ventures, SenseAI and other existing investors. CureSkin plans to deploy these funds to grow its overall customer base, expand into adjacent categories and make further investments in technology.

Sachin Tagra, Partner, JSW Ventures said, “The capital will help the company to continue scaling its operations, innovate on new products and build a stronger technology solution that will allow the brand to become a category leader.”
