Founder speaks-

"At HealthPlix, we have developed an agile system that empowers doctors with tools such as e-prescribing, e-consultation, regional Rx among a host of other features. However, Indian healthcare facilities are not equipped and agile enough to empower doctors. Health systems need to introduce more robust technology that would assist in providing faster diagnosis while treating patients at the point of care.

We believe EMR will become the new normal in healthcare delivery. COVID-19 has been a game-changer for digital health in India, and the launch of Ayushman Bharat Digital Health Mission by the government last year has further accelerated adoption of digital in the healthcare segment."
