

Blockchain health revolution Limoverse forays into India

18 April 2022 | News

The company will collaborate with leading Indian startups and entrepreneurs to introduce innovative solutions to the Indian masses

Blockchain healthcare provider Limoverse has forayed into the Indian market. Limoverse is a virtual universe where people get empowered to take charge of their health and well-being. It will offer users the ability to monetise, gamify and decentralise personalised wellness database through Limoverse's network of health & wellness enthusiasts and practitioners.

Limoverse aims to create a unified and united 'Global Health & Wellness Ecosystem' using their proprietary EPLIMO stack based on blockchain.

The company will collaborate with leading Indian startups and entrepreneurs to introduce innovative solutions to the Indian masses.

The company is poised to lead India into the paradigm shift with Health 5.0 and usher MIoT using analytical tools for wellness and fitness with Artificial Intelligence, AR/VR/XR and Blockchain as the underlying technology.