

National Ayurved Cardiology Symposium discuss ways to incorporate ayurveda into cardiac care

16 May 2022 | News

Around 5,000 doctors from across India attended the virtual conference

In a bid to promote scientific evidence-based Ayurveda across the country, a four-day National Ayurved Cardiology Symposium – the first-of-its-kind in India, was held to present and share various case studies supported with clinical data about Ayurveda's success in treating and reversing cardiac diseases.

Madhavbaug, brand of Vaidya Sane Ayurved Laboratories, brought together about 5,000 doctors from across India for this virtual conference, which saw even wide participation from the practitioners of modern medicines.

The symposium was powered by Medemy.in and MIPC chair of Maharashtra University of Health Sciences was the knowledge partner. Addressing the participants, Dr Rohit Madhav Sane, MD & CEO, Madhavbaug underscored the need for scientific evidence-based practice of Ayurveda to unleash its real potential.

1510 Ayurveda doctors participated on the virtual platform. The virtual event witnessed around 82 ayurvedic cardiac specialists from Maharashtra, Gujrat, MP, UP, Karnataka, Goa, presenting their extraordinary and challenging case studies supported by clinical data about ayurvedic management of various cardiometabolic disorders.
