CACTUS partners with IndiaBioscience to conduct research training programmes

21 July 2022 | News

The online training sessions will be conducted starting August 5, 2022

Cactus Communications (CACTUS) has partnered with IndiaBioscience, primarily funded by the Department of Biotechnology (DBT), Government of India, to conduct training sessions for PhD students and postdoctoral fellows in the life sciences industry in India. These online training sessions will be conducted starting August 5, 2022, under the aegis of the event ‘Write Right series in Research Communication’ by Editage and IndiaBioscience.

The one-hour training sessions will occur every Friday 4-5 PM IST for five weeks. These workshops aim to provide comprehensive training in research communication to a group of 50 selected participants for each workshop.

Over the sessions, the workshop will cover various topics around literature review, manuscript writing, manuscript proofreading and editing, and many more sessions exclusively prepared to help participants understand the criticality of writing and structuring good manuscripts to improve the chances of their papers getting published.
