The startup serves large healthcare enterprises to drive digital, data, and technology adoption

Gurugram-based startup THB (Technology | Healthcare | Big Data Analytics), has announced a $20 million funding in a growth equity round led by Filter Capital and Edelweiss Discovery Fund Series - I.

Cornerstone Venture Partners Fund (CSVP) and Healthquad, among others, also participated in the round.

THB will use the funds in expanding its operations globally and accelerating growth in existing countries across South Asia, Middle East and South East Asia. With this funding, THB is well-positioned to expand its product portfolio and invest in growing global presence.

The startup serves large healthcare enterprises to drive digital, data, and technology adoption with their data management platform, and a suite of software solutions across 20+ use-cases, including patient engagement, doctor engagement, clinical customer relationship management, analytics automation, customer care automation, and real-world evidence.

THB currently serves wide spectrum of customers in the healthcare industry, including hospitals, pharmaceutical companies, diagnostic labs, primary care, consumer health, payors, and med-tech companies across markets in emerging Asia including India, Bangladesh, Sri Lanka, UAE, KSA, Indonesia, Singapore, and Malaysia.
