CCRH and Adamas University sign MoU to advance homoeopathy research

11 March 2025 | News

Significant milestone in interdisciplinary research, paving the way for scientific advancements in homoeopathy

The Central Council for Research in Homoeopathy (CCRH), New Delhi and Adamas University, Kolkata, have signed a Memorandum of Understanding (MoU) to foster academic and research collaboration in the field of Homoeopathy.

The agreement was formally signed by Dr Subhash Kaushik, Director General, CCRH, and Prof. Suranjan Das, Vice-Chancellor, Adamas University, in the esteemed presence of Nobel Laureate Sir Gregory Paul Winter and Dr Samit Ray, Chancellor, Adamas University Kolkata.

This MoU marks a significant milestone in interdisciplinary research, paving the way for scientific advancements in homoeopathy through knowledge exchange and collaborative initiatives. It reflects the shared commitment of both institutions to furthering innovation and evidence-based research in alternative medicine.

This partnership is expected to strengthen academic ties, facilitate joint research projects, and contribute to the broader acceptance and integration of Homoeopathy in mainstream healthcare.

The Central Council for Research in Homoeopathy is an apex research organisation under the aegis of the Ministry of Ayush, Government of India, conducting core research in the field of Homoeopathy. The Council collaborates with national and international institutes of excellence to conduct various research activities.
