Bridging ancient ayurveda with modern science

India’s pioneering cannabis wellness enterprise, Bombay Hemp Company (BOHECO), has announced the launch of its largest flagship Holistic Health & Wellness Clinic & Store in Bengaluru in partnership with Soulgoal Artisan – a space that redefines how India experiences health, healing, and holistic well-being through Cannabis-Leaf based Ayurveda.

The launch comes at a time when India’s wellness market is witnessing a shift towards evidence-based, plant-derived therapies, and public awareness around the clinical potential of cannabis is growing rapidly.

With more than a decade of R&D and advocacy, BOHECO is at the forefront of this transformation, turning India’s ancient relationship with the Cannabis plant into a modern movement for natural, science-backed healing.

The Bengaluru flagship serves as a hub for education, consultation, therapies, and discovery, combining doctor-led clinics, research-backed formulations, and immersive brand experiences under one roof.

With a growing global acceptance of medicinal cannabis and a domestic wellness industry projected to cross $20 billion by 2026, BOHECO’s expansion signals a cultural shift, from curiosity to credibility.

BOHECO’s formulations, spanning pain management, sleep, stress, and skincare, are developed through its in-house R&D and manufacturing facility, and prescribed via BOHECO’s growing network of doctors and virtual clinics across India.

The company also collaborates with CSIR-NBRI, National Institute of Ayurveda, and the Tata Memorial Centre on research and clinical trials studying Cannabis applications in pain, sleep, and cancer management; further legitimising its role in shaping India’s medical cannabis landscape.
