

Jubilant Life Sciences launches new revamped website

23 January 2014 | News | By BioSpectrum Bureau

Jubilant Life Sciences launches new revamped website

Jubilant Life Sciences, an integrated global Pharmaceutical and Life Sciences company has announced the re-launch of their official website <http://www.jubl.com/>.

The company with over three decades of experience has extensive relationships with some of the leading pharmaceutical and agrochemical companies and services customers in 99 countries. The new revamped website has an updated content and improved functionality for an improved user experience for its visitors.

Commenting on the launch, Ms Nidhi Malik, head-marketing & communications, Jubilant Life Sciences said, "Our fully revamped corporate website acts as a unifying point of contact across Businesses, Subsidiaries and Functions. The navigation in the new website has been made simpler and now visitors will have an easy and a quick access to important information, such as our product portfolio, data pertaining to investor interests, sustainability initiatives, current openings and many more."

At the new www.jubl.com, visitors can on one click receive content on R&D activities, post product queries, learn about innovation in drug discovery, and access information on Jubilant Group, stocks, quarter results and more.

Jubilant with many accolades to its credit over the years, has been recognized as the 'Partner of Choice' to leading life sciences companies worldwide