

Jubilant wins ASSOCHAM's responsible organization award 2015

23 February 2015 | News | By BioSpectrum Bureau

Jubilant wins ASSOCHAM's responsible organization award 2015

The Jubilant Life Sciences, an integrated global pharmaceutical company has emerged as the winner of this year's most responsible organization excellence award 2015 conferred by ASSOCHAM.

The award, constituted 7 years ago, is given in recognition of the efforts undertaken by the companies to address the social, economic and environmental effects of doing business, while balancing demands on their attention, time and resources. The award chaired by Justice VN Khare is a part of rigorous five stage selection process

The award was presented by Mrs Nirmala Sitharaman, on Feb 20, 2015 to Mr Shyamsundar Bang, executive director, manufacturing and supply chain, Jubilant Life Sciences.

Expressing his happiness on receiving the award, Mr Bang stated, "We are elated on receiving this prestigious award. It is a recognition of our efforts and reflects our commitment towards the society. "